

Sakthi foundation
Namma Veedu Infancy Uni5 Day Care Center - Sendurai

Feedback from parents about the five needs of child article - Food and dress

August 28th, 2014

Generally parents said that they were able to understand the article. Most of them said that they will try to follow.

Many parents from lower income group said that the list of food items given in the article cannot be given regularly to their children.

Few children have started bringing food with awareness.

Parents of very young children say that peanuts, almonds will be dangerous to their children while eating. They say that fruits are also dangerous with skins.

Our staff members have started peeling and giving fruits to infants with care which can be observed by parents. Modern mothers do not have patience and time to do all these in both cities and villages.

One father said that he cannot understand about junk food and our teachers have explained the article. He has started changing his infant's snack habits. [Harish - child's name]

We were able to see parents sending more peanuts, peanuts biscuits, cooked cereals and reducing the packet form chips etc. This reflects the impact of article.

Girl children have started wearing good dress as per suggested in article. One child who used to wear sleeve less frock started wearing chest covering, sleeve hand dress items.

Still parents need to change the pattern of dressing the children with tight bottoms.

Than previous years our center children are now wearing good looking dresses.