MAHAKAVI AND VANAKAVI

1920

Thiruvananthapuram Padmanabaswamy temple.

Bharathiyar is under yogaic meditation. He was able to visualize the whole cosmos within him and through Namalwar's Thiruvaimozhi verses he was able to clearly understand the yoga nidhrai of Lord Vishnu. Through this yogam he was able to see the whole universal pattern within him and merged in the bliss.

Practical study

After some time he wanted to visit zoo. He wanted her second daughter to see the animals and know about their behavior. He was very particular in giving concepts with practical examples. One day when he was in Pondichery, he got the chance to see the night sky through a telescope. He requested his friend to give that chance to his daughter also. He was very keen in making any one to visualize the concept and inter link with them self to become that itself.

Poet's family went to the zoo. He showed every animal with clear explanation about their behavior and came near a lion cage. Bharathiyar wanted to show his respect to that animal by hugging it. He approached the permission of the zoo officials. Who will allow? Every one saw him as a mad man. Mrs. Chellammaal was very much tensed.

He went very near to the cage and again practiced the yogam. In that his conscious state of truth merged with the lion's soul and merged with that. Slowly the lion came near him and stood calmly. He touched the lion and said, "I am the king of poems. You are king of jungles. I am holding the truth called Parasakthi within me. You are bearing her upon your back. We both are in the same state of awareness!"

Every one saw this and admired at him. Many made fun of him. But this is the context in his life which shows us about the truth.

Respect to unconditional love

Bharathiyar's childhood friend conducted his daughter's wedding at that time in Thiruvananthapuram. But he did not invited him. He was scared of him. He was working for English government. But his wife considered him as a saint and requested him to visit the wedding to bless her daughter.

Bharathiyar wanted to respect her respectful love. So he took his family there. Chellammaal was tensed. On his way he saw Mr. Seshan. He was his close friend. Let us listen to him...

"Bharathiyarwaal! Namasthey! I am searching for your communication to invite you for my son's wedding. God made me to see you. Please come to the wedding. I will be blessed with your divine presence! The wedding hall must be vibrated with your poems!"

This is the respect given by God to him through Mr. Seshan. By this Bharathiyar's friend's mind also got relaxed. Seshan gave a very warm welcome to the poet. He made him as a VVIP personality. Bharathiyar sang many songs and also listened to Nadhaswaram for very long time. By this friend's wife also thanked God for making the situation a nice time.
